Q: What is the best way to round a floats numbers in python? I have a list of numbers, e.g. [0.09, 0.28, 0.98,... 0.53] and I want to add all these numbers together, but the sum of these numbers is not always an integer. What is the best way to round all these floats (rounding the number down)? A: You can import the scientific python module. There is the round() function which will round a float to a specified number of decimal places. This is a very useful function for many kinds of calculations. `import scientific as scipy s = scipy.sum( [0.09, 0.28, 0.98, 1.03] ) print scipy.round( s, 2 )` This will print out 1.04. A: You can use round. The Python 2 docs are here: In Python 2.x, you have to call round() from a function. In Python 3.x, you can use the round() function directly, either directly or in a function:

>>> import round >>> round.round(0.09) 0.1 >>>
round.round(0.09, 1) 0.1 >>> round.round(0.09, 0) 0.0
>>> round(0.09, 0) 0.0 >>> round.round(1.03, 1) 1.0
>>> round.round(0.09, 2) f678ea9f9e
